Over the 30-plus years of Brett's legal career, he has counseled a diverse client base including individuals, owners of regulated and non-regulated companies, small entrepreneurial entities and large public corporations. He counts among his clients both broker-dealers and investment advisors. His areas of practice include regulatory matters and securities. Brett also holds a position on the firm's Executive Committee.

Brett is chair of Meritas, an international network of highly vetted, independent law firms spanning 91 countries. Brett has helped KJK become one of the leading Meritas firms in the world, having served on the organization's Membership Committee, Executive Committee and Board of Directors.

In addition to his service to clients in day-to-day matters, Brett is also a skilled litigator who has handled business-to-business commercial disputes and securities issues involving the Federal Courts, FINRA, the SEC and state securities regulators. Brett also represents clients in regulatory reviews and investigations of securities practices, business practices relating to consumer sales, and business planning and litigation involving the Ohio Alcoholic Beverages Franchise Act.

Brett's approach is to assist businesses and individuals in maximizing their growth by limiting litigation and regulatory risk. He makes sure that the legal strategy he advises is always aligned with each client's unique business goals. He also holds a position of leadership within the firm as a member of KJK's Executive Committee and Chair of the Litigation Practice Group.

Outside of his work at KJK, Brett is civically involved in his home community of Shaker Heights, where four generations of his family have resided.
